Town Topics

Mrs. H. I. Miller returned on Saturday evening from spending a month with friends at the Coast.

Dr. Tilt of the Capital City spent a few days of this week visiting relatives here and in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner of Edmonton spent the week-end visiting the former's home near Wetaskiwin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Terry and family went to Pigeon Lake the first of the week, where they will spend some time camping out.

The vital statistics as recorded by the registrar, for the Wetaskiwin district, are as follows: Born, 5; married, 1; died, 10.

Mr. Moore of Edmonton came down last week to spend a few days at the home of his brother, Mr. E. L. Moore of the Wetaskiwin Undertaking Co.

Miss Burger of the Edmonton teaching staff arrived in the city on Monday to spend a portion of the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Burger.

Mrs. Johnson and daughter of Revelstoke B. P., arrived in the city Saturday to spend some weeks visiting her sisters, Mrs. R. W. Swanson and Mrs. R. C. Switzer.

John McGarrity of Bonnie Glen has been in the city for the past few days renewing old acquaintances. The city has made wonderful improvement since he resided here, and he is always pleased to drop in for a few days occasionally.

Miss Harrison went to Edmonton on Monday to attend the Summer school for teachers being conducted there. Her application for a position at the Edmonton teaching staff has been accepted, and she will assume her new duties at the commencement of the fall term.

The Gun Club had a successful shoot on Wednesday evening, when the following scores were made: Richardson 9; Smith 13; Rosecroft 6; Alexander 6; James 8; Nesbitt 15; Tate 17; Webster 14; Crane 9; Tate 17; Richardson 14; Webster 15; Rosecroft 10; Nesbitt 14.

H. J. Montgomery left on Saturday evening on a business and pleasure trip to Prince Edward Island, and will be absent three weeks or a month. He was in charge of a consignment of two foxes being sent east by the Northern Alberta Fox Ranching Company, in which were four black beauties.

D. J. McKitterick, who was a delegate to the O.C.F. convention at London, Ont., returned home last week, and reports having had a very enjoyable outing. He also visited his old home in Ontario. McKitterick and family, who were staying with relatives in Calgary, have also returned home.

A police court case was tried on Monday before D. C. McLean and C. Shantz, Justices of the Peace, when Ernest Stressing, fourteen miles west of the city was charged with pointing a rifle and bayonet at his wife and threatening to kill her bodily harm. After hearing the evidence, the magistrate bound the accused over for twelve months to keep the peace, and allowed him out on $50 bail.

During the past week, Mr. D. F. Sherlock, of the Sherlock-Manning Piano and Organ Co. of London, Canada, spent a day with the firm's representative in Wetaskiwin and district, Mr. J. H. Robinson.

Mr. Sherlock, who had just returned from a trip to the coast, stated that the demand for their pianos and organs was growing so rapidly that they had difficulty in filling orders promptly.

Nels Linden is to be congratulated upon the success he had at the Calgary Exhibition last week when he won all the prizes for the Brown Leg horn variety of poultry. He also captured the silver cup in a competition which included all other varieties. In this competition were exhibitors from Ontario and British Columbia. This is only another evidence that Mr. Linden has about as good birds as are being raised anywhere.

Mr. E. C. Seythor, western manager of the Williams Piano Co. Ltd. at Oshawa, was in the city Tuesday, conferring with the firms local agent, Mr. J. H. Robinson, and arranging for the shipment of a number of pianos of the new styles now coming through the factory. Mr. Seythor has recently been elected to the general management of the Williams Piano Co. Ltd. and leaves Winnipeg shortly to reside in Oshawa.

OBITUARY

DAVID W. MACKAY

The people of the city and common to be shocked on Sunday afternoon to learn that David William, the eldest son of Mr. J. C. McKay had accidentally shot himself about noon that day, and that his mother, the wife of the family went to the farm of Phil Whittaker, five miles east of the city, a few days before to spend a short holiday. While playing with the others, while out together shooting, the unfortunate boy grabbed the rifle which was lying on the ground, and in doing so dragged it on the ground, with the result that it discharged, the ball entering the left side. He expired a few minutes afterwards. He was aged eleven years and one month and was a particular favorite with his playmates. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, service being conducted at the residence, Beatrice street, by Rev. C. B. A. Pocock. The remains were laid to rest in Wetaskiwin cemetery. The host of friends extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of bereavement.

MRS. MARIA KIPP

The friends of Mrs. Maria Kipp, relict of the late Leonard Kipp, will be surprised to learn that she was found in her bed with life extinct on Tuesday morning. She had living for some time with her nephew, S. R. Mann, Lorne street. She was aged 79 years and 3 months, and heart failure is given as the cause of the sudden demise. She was feeble in her old age. She was found lying on her back on Monday, and among other household duties baked bread, made a pudding and churned that day. Deceased was born near Niagara Falls, Ont., but spent the most of her life in Michigan, coming to Wetaskiwin sixteen months ago to visit her half-sister, Mrs. Dr. Green. She leaves one son, residing in Michigan, three children having predeceased her. The funeral takes place this Thursday afternoon, the interment being in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

RATEPAYERS MEETING

Not Largely Attended But Interesting Discussion Takes Place.

The public meeting on Monday evening last in the Empire Theatre to consider the money by-laws and the gas proposition was not largely attended, and not much interest was shown by the ratepayers. Mayor Walker in calling the meeting to order, referred to the fact that the meeting was called to consider the proposed by-law to increase the rate of interest on the city's indebtedness from 5 to 10 per cent. He stated that the $20,000 voted last year for this department had all been expended in the installation of the new plant, but it was found that the amount voted was not sufficient by some $7,000 to complete the work. The steam and gas pipes were not included in the estimate, and these would cost about $1700. There was a loss in the sale of the debentures of $3,200 and this would have to be made up. In addition to this there was a deficit of $150 in connection with the running of the plant, which was an accumulation of several years. This was approximately the $20,000 which is called for in the by-law. The bank insisted on not allowing any more over drafts in this department, and as the money had been expended, it must be raised at once. This could be done by passing the by-law and meeting the debentures extending over twenty years. If the by-law is defeated, the amount will have to be raised out of general revenue, which will probably raise the taxes to the point of rebellion.

Ald. Dudgeon stated that the rate was a small revenue above all expenses as per the statement of May last. Ald. Egan, chairman of the water and sewers committee, then explained why $16,000 more was wanted for the department. Last year $16,000 was voted to complete the water main, but this had not been enough to complete the work he had. There was a shortage of $498 in the completion of the disposal works, and there were twenty-two more applications for connections that estimated which amounted to about $800. The department has an over expenditure of $8,000 in connection with the water main, and a number of applications are now on file, but cannot be proceeded with owing to lack of funds. The loss in the sale of debentures was $1920. By the passing of this by-law to raise $16,000, all indebtedness to the bank would be eliminated, and there would be a nice surplus to extend the system. The bank was in a good revenue, but refused to do so, and if the by-law was defeated the amount would have to be raised by general taxation.

"We have a water system of which any city could be proud," said Ald. Egan as during the past year there has not been a shortage of water anywhere on the system, and from the reservoir alone there is a pressure of 72 lbs. and with the engines working there a pressure of 125 pounds and more. Ald. Egan was concluded by stating that with a few more connections the water system would show a surplus over and above all expenses.

Ald. Ellis, chairman of the finance committee, pointed out why it was desirable to change the by-law passed some time ago from 5 to 10 years, and the rate of interest from 5 to 10 per cent. The debenture was unsaleable, but the interest was paid. He stated that there was a good chance of disposing of the same. Mayor Walker in summing up the discussion, emphasized the point that the passing of the by-law was not increasing the city's indebtedness, it was only making provision whereby the people living here for the next twenty years would be assisting to pay for the facilities they enjoyed. If the by-law does not pass the indebtedness does not cease, but on the other hand if the vote is favorable, the past indebtedness will be cleared up, and the city put in a better financial condition.

The gas well proposition was then taken up, by Ald. Dudgeon, Egan, Gothard and Ellis arguing in favor of deepening the present well to a depth of at least 2000 feet. On the other hand Ald. Gross and Wallace, and His Worship thought it advisable to stop the work on the present well, conduct the gas to the power house and use what we have and then sink other wells, and that test should be a volume of $40,000 lbs., with a pressure of 100 lbs., which was more than ample to run the power plant. Many of the citizens expressed their opinion, which are divided on the question. The mayor wished it to be distinctly understood that the matter would be decided by the ratepayers on the 15th inst. If the by-law is passed, the council would take it as an indication from the ratepayers that they wished the well deepened, and work would be proceeded with. On the other hand, if the by-law is defeated, no further drilling will be done in the present well, and the gas will be piped to the power house and used for fueling the boilers.

The meeting concluded by singing the national anthem. R. W. Manley who has been spending a few days at Gull Lake returned home on Wednesday. What might easily have been a serious accident happened on Tuesday afternoon as Mrs. C. W. B. Harkness and daughter were driving to Buffalo Lake to visit friends, when they arrived at Swanson's corner, the girl noticed the wheel coming off, and immediately jumped, escaping unharmed. Mr. Harkness, however, was slightly injured. The team was captured by John Arnold, and with the assistance of other neighbors, things were righted as best they could be. Mr. Harkness and daughter were enabled to return home, but much worse after their thrilling experience. They wish to thank all who assisted them on this occasion.

THE NEW SCIENCE

"If I only had more time—if I only could work four or five hours longer without getting tired out!" how often have all of us expressed this wish?

But do we ever analyze carefully our day's work and determine how many unnecessary things we do—how many mental or physical motions we make to accomplish results that could be accomplished in a more direct way? This problem has been worked out on a scientific basis and with astonishing results in the manual labor of the factory by a corps of engineering experts under the leadership of Frederick W. Taylor, "the Edison of scientific business management."

The story of his work and results should be known to every business man. The same methods adopted to increase factory efficiency can be utilized to increase office efficiency.

Briefly expressed, a careful study was made of every motion made by a man shoveling coal, for example. The average size of load, the position of the body, the "thrust" into the pile, the pace, the rhythm, the angle of the shovel, the shape of the shovel—all these factors were studied, experiments were made, records kept, until finally every minute detail was analyzed and the most efficient way of performing each operation determined.

The results secured have been almost incredible. In Bethlehem Steel Works, one hundred and forty laborers under the new method do the same work for which six hundred men were formerly required.

In a shoe factory seventy-five men and twenty "teachers" have replaced one hundred men and five foremen, and the output has been multiplied two and a half times. The same principle applied to bricklaying has increased the record of 120 bricks an hour per man to 350 bricks.

Yet in all these cases the actual expenditure of effort has not been any greater—if as great.

Suppose the office manager, the retailer, the professional man, were to apply this scientific analysis to his daily tasks. If for several days, he would pause at every cash act or operation and ask himself:

"Was this necessary; or could it be done in a better way; or could any of my assistants do it just as well or could I have some appliance, system, device, or printed form which would enable me to do it in less time or would automatically take the work of my memory so I could have my thoughts free for other things?"

"We live in an age of science"—this is a time when expression on our lips. But do we really apply science to our everyday business life?

There is the answer to greater efficiency and added accomplishment without increased hours of labor or tax on strength.

All those who purpose attending the Provincial Interdenominational Young People's Sunday School and Mission Study Conference to be held at Alberta College, Edmonton, July 22nd to 29th, are requested to purchase full fare one-way tickets and take standard certificates from local ticket agents. Special rates have been arranged on all railways. Further information may be obtained from A. E. Ottewill, Registrar of Summer School, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Face To Face WITH A Serious Problem.

BAD WATER WAS THE CAUSE.

Mrs. EDWARD KINGSTON, Mirror, Alta., writes—"Coming to the North-west from B.C., in the summer of 1910, we were face to face with the serious problem of being able to secure good drinking water; this we could not get, so were obliged to drink water containing a great deal of alkali, with the result that we were all troubled with Diarrhoea. Fortunately, we had a bottle of Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY in the house which soon relieved our suffering. I have always kept a bottle in the house since obtaining such beneficial results from its use when my boy as a baby was similarly troubled. 'It has always proved a friend in need.'"

There are many imitations of "Dr. FOWLER'S". When you ask for the well-known article, insist on being given it. It has been on the market for over sixty years, and has always given the greatest satisfaction. It cures when all others fail.

THE STAR STORE

WETASKIWIN

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try REXALL ORDELINES,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish, the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, listlessness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlines

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, grip, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of REXALL ORDELINES almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like REXALL ORDELINES. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that REXALL ORDELINES are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy REXALL ORDELINES in this community only at our store:

Sunday School Lesson

By EVANGELINE

A GOD-MADE MAN

IN THE MAKING

July 13th—Ex. 2:11-23; Acts 7:17-29;

Heb. 11:23-27.

Moses' Common school course consisted of (1) an environment of love, virtue, devotion to God, (2) of example kept, ever before him of godly parents and godlier ancestors, (3) of the first principles of science, geometry that he himself should form the angle between the perpendicular line of intersection uniting him with God and the horizontal line of good works uniting him with a devoted, suffering and wronged humanity.

In his early training God fed him with the fruits of the tree of life lavishly and with the fruits of the tree of knowledge sparingly. In the new era upon which he was entering God permitted him to have more of the fruits of tree of knowledge.

"And Pharaoh's daughter took him, and nursed him. For her own son. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and he was mighty in his words and works."

Released something of international arbitration and diplomacy. He learned something of the characteristics and languages of other nations. He attended the great university of Heliopolis, the Oxford of ancient Egypt, where many years later Herodotus and Plato studied. He had access to the library of Heliopolis at Thebes with its 20,000 books. He mastered two forms of difficult Egyptian writing, as well as arithmetic, geometry, trigonometry, astronomy, music, both vocal and instrumental, painting, architecture, medicine, chemistry, history, law, poetry, and other branches of literature.

"The wisdom of the Egyptians" was very considerably at this early period according to modern notions. The tradition that he became an officer in the Imperial army is in accordance with the probabilities and explain his great military ability displayed in the desert and after. According to Josephus, the Egyptian made an incursion into Egypt and routed the Egyptian army. The command was then entrusted to Moses who by a rapid and successful march surprised the enemy and drove him back to their own territory when he became the most popular man in the kingdom.

"And it came to pass that when Moses was grown up that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens." The misery of which he had heard now became to him a first-hand experience. He saw the oppression of his people he heard their groans, he saw their tears, he noted the lash of the taskmaster and the streams of Hebrew blood and

THE IRON ENTERED HIS SOUL

It was when Moses stood looking on the burdens that a noble resolve was born. It was then that he made the decision of his life. He saw two roads before him leading to two destinies—either he would take the one of popularity and power with the boundless wealth that would naturally fall to his lot, the luxury, the culture, the daily fare, the charms of music and art, the hunting and fishing parties, the soft comfortable couches, the smart suits of cloth, and all the things which mark of those who are living for self, for those who are living for others—all spread themselves out before him in tempting array and drew him toward a life of ease, of pleasure, of softness. On the other side was conscience, and honor, and patriotism which is an essential part of all great nature, and makes itself felt as crises with irresistible force. The path of self-sacrifice has always been attractive to the world's greatest heroes.

Which road would he take?

There could be but one answer—"By faith Moses when he was grown up and he looked on the sufferings of his brethren, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season."

"And he saw an Egyptian smiting a Hebrew, one of his brethren, and he looked this way and that, and when he saw there was no man, he smote the Egyptian and hid him in the sand." Oppression maketh a wise man mad. In a fit of temporary madness he committed the homicide which led to the forty years exile in Midian. All things worked together for good for the training in Midian was a necessary part of the preparation for the great task that lay before him. God's says, "No region more favor able to the attainment of a lofty conception of the Almighty could have been found. The solemn stillness of the mountains and the boundless sweep of the heavens would place the thought of man, and fill the soul with the majesty of God. His sum must have been disciplined and purified by isolation from the world, and closer and more continual communion with God."

The story is told of Raymond Lull that in order to study Arabic so as to write a book to convince Moslems of the truth of Christianity, he bought a Saracen slave and stored him for nine years, when one day a tragic incident interrupted his studies. Lull had learned the language of the Moslem but the Moslem slave had not learned the love of Christ, nor had his pupil. For the midst of these studies one day the slave blasphemously struck the slave violent in the face in his strong indignation. The Moslem, stung to the quick, drew a knife and wounded him severely. The slave was then seized, and imprisoned and fearing the death penalty for attempted murder, committed suicide. "It was a sad beginning for Lull in his work of preparation. Patients had not yet had its perfect work."

Careful home training, all the wisdom of the Egyptians, a noble decision, a grand enthusiasm, was not sufficient for a God-made leader, he must learn patience and self-control in that grandest of universities—the university of adversity.

It is hard to be patient, with one's self. It is hard to school one's self to put with abuses which seem intolerable and with wrongs inflicted upon others which make one's blood boil with indignation. It is hard to subvert the natural feelings to the ultimate triumph of the cause. This lesson God would teach in a further course of forty years.

Not deterred by his unfortunate experiences in helping others we find Moses on his arrival at Midian daily assisting in the work of his shepherds, who were prevented from watering their flocks by some rough shepherds who had taken possession of the well.

"HOLD ON, GENTLEMEN, LADIES FIRST."

he said, and they saw by the flash of his dark eyes that he was quite "skilled in all the wisdom of the Egyptians," including the use of his fists.

For true manly chivalry, Moses is an example to all men as well as to boys. His was the spirit that contended not so much for women's rights as for women's privileges.

Imagine Moses lifting the burden of the affairs of a nation under which the strongest men stagger, and placing it upon the weaker!

Moses, like the Boy Scouts, had sworn "TO PROTECT THE DISTRESSED; TO MAINTAIN THE RIGHT AGAINST THE MIGHT, AND TO PRESERVE A PURE AND UPRIGHT AS A KNIGHT AND AS A LEADER OF MEN."

SUCCESSFUL DAIRYING

There are such excellent concrete examples now and again outcropping of men who prove that it pays to take up cow testing that their records of success make stimulating reading for dairy farmers all over the Dominion.

Here is a good sample of what one man at Cedar, Hall, Que., in the Gaspe peninsula accomplished by carefully watching his fairly good cows and feeding them better. The best year his eight cows gave him 23,511 pounds of milk, an average of 4,188 pounds at a feed cost of $22.50, netting a total profit of $76.82 an average of $9.60 profit per cow. Two of the best cows in the herd the first year were lost accidentally, two heifers made up the herd to eight again, a pure bred sire is kept.

ADVICE TO ALBERTA

FARMERS BORNE OUT

Millions of dollars are lost every year through bad eggs and the Alberta Department of Agriculture has been endeavoring to diminish losses from this cause so far as Alberta farmers are concerned. To this end the department has been advising farmers to keep the male birds out of the flock except at the breeding season, and to market only infertile eggs. As an inducement the department distributed among the farmers a large number of pure-bred cockles and one of the conditions was that the birds should be kept with the hens only during the season when eggs were required for hatching.

A number of tests which have been conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, the results of which are published in its latest Bulletin No. 160 Bureau of Animal Husbandry, prove conclusively that the marketing of fertile eggs is one of the greatest causes of bad eggs being placed on the market or rejected by the wholesale dealers. The Bulletin states that infertile eggs, regardless of where they may be stored, are much more resistant to deterioration than fertile eggs, while the results of all the experimental work point to the fact that the production of the infertile egg is the greatest asset in the attempt to produce high-quality market eggs during hot weather.

To assure a high quality of product and prevent in a large measure the loss now experienced in the value of the country's egg production, producers are urged to observe the following simple rules:

1. Give the hens clean nests.
2. Gather eggs at least once daily.
3. Keep eggs in a cool, dry place.
4. Market eggs at least twice a week.
5. Kill or sell all mature male birds as soon as the hatching season closes.

A CONFESSION.

Dear little boy with wondering eyes
That for the light of knowledge yearn,
Who have such faith that I am wise
And know the things that you would learn.

Though oft I shake my head and smile
To hear your childish questions flow,
(I must not meet your faith with guile;
I cannot tell, I do not know.)

Dear little boy, with eager heart,
Forever on the quest of truth,
Your riddles oft are past my art
To answer to your tender youth.
But some day you will understand
The things that now I cannot say,
When life shall take you by the hand
And lead you on its wondrous way.

Dear little boy with hand in mine,
Together through the world we fare,
I have not yet the strength to divine
I have not yet the strength to bear,
Like you with riddling words I ask,
Like you I hold another hand,
And happy when I do my task
I, too, shall understand.

EXTENDED COURTESIES.

How Andrew Broder Loaned Orange

Hail For The Mass.

It seems that we will have to surrender the account of harmony between Orangemen and Catholics which some of our Water-ville, Quebec, but fortunately there are other incidents of the same kind in, apparently well authenticated, Canadian history. At exact parallel, in fact, to what was reported to have taken place in Waterville, and some years ago in the County of Dundas on the St. Lawrence.

"Andy" Broder, M.P., who is highly popular with all sections of his constituency, was the good fairy in the case. A priest of the county was seeking to organize a congregation in a settlement where he had no church. It was his custom to hold the mass alternately in the homes of two of the more prominent of the members of his flock. The services were held periodically only, and one Sunday when he arrived he was shocked to find that his two chief parishioners had forgotten that this was the day of his visit and had gone off and cooked up their houses. As soon as the other members of the congregation became aware of the state of af-airs, consternation spread. What was to be done? Here was the "Father" who specially to hold mass, and he was no place large enough in which to hold it. Then one of the troubled neighbours thought of their member of Parliament, who happened to be in the village that day. So off they went to him and asked for his advice.

"Andy" is a Methodist, but that did not daunt the troubled Catholics at all. They knew he was a man and a Irishman. Now did the difficulty rouse "Andy" either—perhaps not the latter reason. There was a banquet hall in the place, and the Irish-Canadian went straight off to the keeper of the keys and opened up the hall, and mass was celebrated under the picture of William as Third and all the insignia of the O.I.C. Of course, there were a few roamers in the lodge, who feared that some dreadful consequences might ensue from this radical departure from established usage. But Andrew Broder is never at a loss for a reply.

"Do you think," he said to the objectors, "that it would do King Wiliam more harm than he did them?"
And that was the end of the criticism.

Post Is Honored.

At the commencement exercises at the University of Ottawa recently the degree of Doctor of Letters was conferred upon William Chapman, the distinguished poet of Ottawa. The title of Ottawa society was present at the pleasing function and the address delivered by Dr. Chapman was vigorously applauded, whose works have been twice crowned by the French Academy of Paris. The academy of Loux-Voreaux, the most ancient body of its kind in France, has also honored him, so that our distinguished fellow citizen reflects literary glory on the central and on the university which has been pleased to create him a member of its alumni. The poet was born at Beauce in 1850 and was educated at Levis College and studied law for a time, but his inclinations were ever run to literature. He has published a large number of volumes of great merit, his poems receiving the highest prize of the French academy in 1910. He has been decorated by the Government of France and has had several signal honors showered on him by literary men in Paris. He is a poet of large view and a simple, beautiful style and his writings are marked by a fervent patriotism and are very popular in Canada as well as in France.

A Clear-Headed Duke.

Concerning the Duke of Connaught there is a story which illustrates the acuity of his mind and its grasp of detail. At the big Wiltshire manorhouse before the South African war the duke commanded the northern army.
The correspondent of a prominent London daily who had interviewed the duke with reference to the disposition of his forces on the eve of an engagement approached some of his friends and remarked, "Well, they can jolly well say what they like about some people getting credit for the suggestions of others, but just look at these."

and he produced some voluminous note which he had been making.
"The duke has just jotted these off to me from his own head, without a scrap of paper or a word from another soul. They give the position of every battalion under his command.—London Graphic.

This Is Authoritative.

The Geographic Board of Canada has decided that hereafter this is the way to spell Temiskaming and Teme-gamuc the latter "r" being replaced by "g". The decision was made following an investigation into the Indian origin of the words.

WOOL SHEARING IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Sheep shearing in southern Alberta has been under way for some little time now and the wool output this year from this province will easily eclipse all previous figures.

"Bar U" Ranch, owned by the Western Horse Ranches, Ltd., of Calgary and a member of Bert Muckle, lies six miles east of Calgary. It comprises over 15,000 acres, and counting this year's lambs, carries between eleven and twelve thousand head. As fast as the herds can be driven in, they are coming under the shearer's hands.

"The company figures on shipping 32,000 pounds of wool to London this summer. They are also laying off about 5,000 animals for mutton, and will dispose of them probably in Calgary. The scale on which they have entered the sheep business is very large, as may be gleaned from the fact that just now they are raising what will give some 1,500 tons of oats for green feed throughout next winter."

DOCTORS SAID COULD NOT GET CURED

THREE VIALS OF Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills CURED HIM.

Could Hardly Eat on Account of Indigestion.

Mr. DAVID BERRIDGE, Claremont, N.S., writes:—"I have had indigestion for some years, and could hardly eat. It then turned into a sour stomach, and the doctors said I could not get cured. I used a lot of medicine until at last one of my friends told me to use MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS, and after I had used three vials, I was completely cured, and I always keep them in the house now."

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS are a wonderful remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver, and have been universally used during the twenty odd years they have been on the market.

Price 25 cents a vial, or 6 for $1.00, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CORN GROWING ON THE PRAIRIE!

A few years ago one who would have advocated the growing of corn in Manitoba as a profitable crop would have subjected himself to ridicule. Experience, however, has taught that corn for fodder may be grown there with undoubted success. This has been demonstrated in a practical manner by farmers in all parts of the province as well as by the Experimental Farm at Brandon. Moreover it has been proved that in wheat-growing corn cultivation will give as good results as summer fallow and besides it pays for the use of the land and for the work expended on it by giving a large crop of excellent fodder for cattle and other stock.

At the Brandon Experimental Farm in 1912 a field that grew corn the previous year produced wheat at a cost of 25 cents per bushel to grow and thresh, while wheat grown on other fields followed the previous season cost 45 cents per bushel. Practically the same results were obtained in 1911 from wheat grown in fields handled under similar conditions.

This information is clearly brought out in a new bulletin by W. C. McKillop, B.S.A., Superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Brandon and issued as bulletin No 14, Second Series, of the Experimental Farms. In this work the most suitable varieties for Manitoba are given and full instructions are contained for growing and handling the crop, the place it may occupy in a crop rotation, etc. The various machines and implements that may probably be used are described and many illustrations are given. The ideal way of storing the fodder is said in the bulletin to be in the silo because in this way the succulence of the fodder is preserved, and it is in more conveniently fed and more completely consumed and assimilated. It is hoped that the information contained in this publication will be effective in inducing many western province farmers to give corn forage a trial in order that they may learn that by the use of this crop they may greatly increase the productivity of their land and render more sure the profits of their labors.

This bulletin, which is entitled, "Corn Growing in Manitoba," has been printed for free distribution by the Superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Brandon and by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

MONUMENT IS UNVEILED TO LATE DR. WILBERT MCINTYRE

"Erected by his constituents in loving memory of the late Dr. Wilbert McIntyre, member of parliament for the federal riding of Strathcona 1906-1909, an able representative, a worthy citizen, a true friend," is the inscription to be placed in plates of brass upon the bronze fountain at the central boulevard of Main street, South Side, just near the city offices and the public library. A large crowd assembled Dominion Day to witness the unveiling ceremony.

J. M. Douglas M.P., acted as their man, and referred to the work of Dr. McIntyre. Hon. A. C. Rutherford, ex-M.P.P., briefly reviewed the life and work of Dr. McIntyre and told how his friends had been shocked to hear of his sudden death. He told how his work had been appreciated by his constituents of both political parties. Those who knew him best had respected him most.

Mrs. J. M. Douglas drew the veil that covered the monument. The veteran went under and turned the valve. Four spurts of water bubbled up at the four sanitary drinking fountains and the overflow ran down into the two bog troughs at the bottom.

Mayor Short and Hon. J. C. Rutherford had the honor of the first drink. Mrs. Douglas was the first lady to test the fountain. Before the crowd had scattered many took a drink.—Bulletin.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—The Immigration returns for the week ending July constitute a record for western Canada during any such period. Five thousand four hundred and sixty new settlers have been cleared through the Immigration halls in the city and dispatched to destinations north and west, while a smaller proportion remain in Manitoba and Winnipeg.

That the P. Burns company of Calgary will in the near future build branch packing plants in Saskatchewan and Manitoba and eventually endeavor to control the meat packing business of the west, is the information given to the News-Telegram by good authority Thursday morning. A message was received from Regina to the effect that a P. Burns representative was for the past few days looking over the situation in that city with the view of locating a plant there and it has also been stated that a plant will eventually be located at Brandon or Winnipeg in Manitoba.

PARALYSED AND COULD NOT WALK

"Fruit-a-lives" Completely Restored New Brunswick Merchant To Health.

MR. ALVA PHILLIPS

BRISTOL, N. B., July 5th, 1911.
"I am unable to say enough in favor of 'Fruit-a-lives' as it saved my life and restored me to health, when I had given up all hope and when the doctors had failed to do anything more for me. I had a stroke of Paralysis March, 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself, and the Constipation of the bowels was terrible. Nothing did me any good and I was wretched in every way. Finally, I took 'Fruit-a-lives' for the Constipation, and it not only cured me of that trouble but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the paralysis. Under the use of 'Fruit-a-lives' I grew stronger and stronger until all the palsy and weakness left me. I am now well again and attend my store every day and all day."

We are pleased to be able to say that Mr. Del. Gouche is still a member of the Bittern Lake Baseball Club and will put in an appearance the next time the Lake boys visit the Camrose Diamond.

A Grand Bowery Dance will be given Friday night July 11th the floor is 24 x 48 and is in excellent shape, with a music stand at the end. The gentlemen are requested to bring their ladies and have a rousing good time, the usual good order will prevail. Wood's orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. Russell Snell and Miss May Martz, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Monday, July 7, by Rev. Father Van Watten of Wetaskiwin, returning by the midnight train they were met by their many friends armed with rice galore. Also the French orchestra, which comprised, circular saws, colters, plow shares, cowbells, galvanized drum, horseshoes and fireworks, which supplied the music to the fantastic step, till early hours of the morning.

July 1st was celebrated here in harness, foot races and baseball. The baseball game between an aggregation from Camrose and the Lake boys took place after some delay, which was not very appealing from the spectators point of view.

The home team went down to defeat but the game was quite evenly played. There were a few minor disputes, which went to show the visiting team that the Lake boys were not off taking a bath at that time of the day, but they had their eyes on the game. Much credit is due to the referee, who by the way was not Mr. Mitchell of New Norway, but was one who will be more competent for his duty, with more practice.

On account of the inclement weather the Bowery dance did not come off, but several who enjoy the art of dancing remained and tip-toed till the morning, in the hall. Wood's orchestra furnished the music.

Wood's Phosphorine, the Great Blood Purifier, cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Itch, Scabies, etc. It is sold in all drug stores. Price 10c per box, 6 for $1.00. One will please, six will cure. Sold by the Wood Method Co., (Formerly Windsor) Toronto, Ont.

DID NOT KNOW WHAT IT WAS TO BE RID OF BOILS.

When the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples, or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system. There is only one thing to do, and that is to purify the blood by using a thorough blood cleansing medicine such as BUNNICK'S BLOOD BITTERS.

Mr. ANDREW E. COLLIER, River Glade, N.B., writes:—"For years I was troubled with Boils. I did not know what it was to be rid of them until I began to use BUNNICK'S BLOOD BITTERS. I only used two bottles of it, and it is now over ten years, and I can honestly say that I have never had any boils since. I can always recommend B.B.B."

BUNNICK'S BLOOD BITTERS is a remedy indicated for the purification of the blood, and has been used by thousands during the past 30 years.

It is manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TALE OF LOVE AND LOCKSMITH

He Meets a Suspicious Character, Who Gives Him $5 and a New Suit For an Old One, but the Wise Hobo Makes Another Exchange.

By M. QUAD.
[Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.]

I HAD just come back to the trucks after getting a bite to eat at a farmhouse and was passing a heavy thickset fringing the road when a man rose up and beckoned me and called:

"Say, hobo, I want to speak to you a minute."

I am always ready to be spoken to and always looking to enlarge my extensive circle of acquaintances. I made my way into the thicket to come upon a pretty tough looking man who had one arm in a homemade sling and several fresh cuts on his face. I didn't take him for a minister of the gospel who had been out to a morning paper show the night before and lost his way and fallen into a culvert.

"Hobo, have you a heart?" asked the man as I stood staring at him.

"I have, but it's worked over under the tight arm," I said.

"Good! I'm glad you are a joker, because you'll see the point of what I say."

"What for?" he asked.

"Because I want 'em for myself."

"But what'll I do?"

"Take the other suit."

He paraded 'em over and his eyes sparkled with delight. He was going to get a fine suit for $2 worth of rags. He didn't lose no time making the exchange, and as he stood with the better suit on a puzzled look came to his face, and he asked:

"Hobo, why are you so good to me?"

"It's to punish myself. I find that I'm getting too proud and stuck up for a hobo, and so I am going to begin at the bottom again. You keep mum about it, however. If you don't—"

"Be sure I will!"

He tramped on toward the town, and after taking a noonday nap, I followed him. They had him under arrest for attempted burglary the night before, and the watchman of a store was vowing over and over again that he knew some of those truckers must have stolen it. He was right, but it was not for me to explain. I had got a good thing and passed it on to the next. I just leaned up against a lamp-post and said to myself, says I:

"Checkers, the man who lets well enough alone is the man who plays well more clever."

What Wellington Was Afraid Of.

See William Allen covered a large canvas with a picture of the battle of Waterloo, which the Duke of Wellington bought. His grace asked the painter to call at the Tower Gate on a certain day to receive payment. Punctually Sir William came, and the duke began to count out notes for the sum agreed upon. "I know how valuable was his time, Allen said that he would be quite content to take the duke's check."

His grace went on counting, and the artist, thinking he had not been heard, remarked:

"It would have your grace time and trouble if you would give me a check on your bankers."

Either angry at being interrupted in his counting or else jocularly, with a touch of the truth that is sometimes spoken in jest, the duke answered:

"Do you think I would allow Counts' bankers to know what a fool I have been?"—London Tit-Bits.

in face or arm, and I got most of them out with a knife blade. It was while I was fussing with him that I discovered he had a gun and a knife and a burglar's flunkey on his person. Of course I hadn't taken any stock in his story, and now I got the tip that he had been seen while doing a job in the town.

Did I look wise? Did I seem skeptical? Was there anything critical in my bearing?

You go to! A hobo is a tenderfoot for a year or two and then gets next. That chap intended to make him get away all right, and it was not for me to interfere. When he had been overhauled and braced up he suggested that we change clothes. Not the slightest objection on my part. Then he asked for my name and a brief biography and after handing me a five dollar bill was ready to go on.

"Checkers," says he as pleasant as a big snowfall after a thunder shower, "you don't want my angel's father to be worried and about me down, do you?"

"Far from it," I say.

"Then you'll keep quiet about this?"

"Sure, Mike."

"They may arrest you, but they can't make a case."

"Oh, that's all right. Even if they make a case I'm used to going to jail. Just like along and be happy, and don't let go of that angel till she's yours."

He smiled and took the truck, and I sat down to wait. For what? You don't think I was green enough to do a good business suit and be spotted before I had gone half a mile, do you? A hobo face and hair and slouch hat don't go with a twenty dollar suit of clothes.

Professional Pride Stirred.

In about half an hour a tramp came along the tracks. He had no business there. It's a tramp for the highway and a hobo for the ties. My gorge rose at the fellow's cheek, and as he came along I seized and dragged him into the thicket and never stopped cutting him for fifteen minutes. When I had reduced him to a humble state of mind I say:

"Stand up and strip off your duds!"

"What for?" he asks.

"Because I want 'em for myself."

"But what'll I do?"

"Take the other suit."

He paraded 'em over and his eyes sparkled with delight. He was going to get a fine suit for $2 worth of rags. He didn't lose no time making the exchange, and as he stood with the better suit on a puzzled look came to his face, and he asked:

TAKE A GLANCE AT THE CROP SITUATION, THEN GET WISE

"The greatest grain crop since 1901," in the way the crop statistics for the United States are set forth in the report just issued. You know what last year's record wheat crop did to the Canadian markets. Many farmers were glad to get any price for their wheat. Grain farmers' hopes hang on the chance of the rest of the world having poor crops while they harvest bumper crops. When the reverse is the case the grain farmer is "up against it," to use the old language of those who know. Possibly the Argentine and the Old Country crops will not be up to expectations but even if they are normal or a bit below, the proximity of a bumper small grain crop in the States will take the edge off the Canadian market to a great extent. Most of the past season has been the Winnipeg market a few cents higher than Minneapolis and Chicago markets on the other side of the line, due entirely to the fact that there was a tremendous harvest in all kinds of grain in the United States, coupled with big harvests in all the other grain producing countries of the world. In former years the Winnipeg market has always been several cents below U.S. market prices because U.S. markets have had to draw on the Canadian west for grain. Now, our prairie markets are 10 to 15 cents under Winnipeg prices, freight hauls cutting off the prices that farmers are supposed to get at their stations.

Well, is this outline clear enough to put you grain farmers wise? You know the howl that has gone up the past season on account of grain prices. They are likely to be worse next fall when you start to cash in the crop. Live stock is in a fix. Get live stock to feed your grain. Live stock prices are not going to drop any, especially cattle. All kinds of cattle, poultry and sheep are going to receive good prices. In fact, cattle should go still higher, and higher; there is no other way for them to go. If you have read the U. S. Department of Agriculture's statement of facts regarding cattle industry, you have some idea of the appalling dearth of cattle that is steadily growing on the country. Beef mutton go higher and higher until the price into the consumption enough to check prices. To say that beef prices have reached their apex is foolishness. Even hogs at 8 cents per pound or more may work yet higher. Toronto markets show 10 cent pork on the hoof. Dairy products never were in such demand, and the demand steadily outruns the supply.

Sheep are considered the ideal live stock to mix with grain raising, and the southern and of the western provinces. They can be readily obtained in large flocks from Montana or in small bunches from the rocks already established ones. They are the greatest weed eradicators yet found, and this again is a much needed asset for sections which are wind swept practically every day of the year by steady driving winds which stir up ripe weeds and scatter the seeds over miles of cultivated fields. As a market for low grade and reject grains and alfalfa and grain farmers in Southern Alberta have provided the past year. You can't miss it on live stock with good prices already here and markets getting better all the time; you can miss it in the other way on straight grain farming, as many farmers are proving to their sorrow. Hence the answer 19 easy—more live stock to handle the crops.

CAME TO CANADA MORE

THAN 10,000 YEARS AGO

Regina, July 5th.—What it is expected will unravel upon investigation to be a perfect skeleton of a prehistoric man, dating back at least 10,000 yrs, has been discovered on the banks of a ravine in the Willow Bush country, about 48 miles north of the border in Southern Saskatchewan. Attempts are being made by interested citizens to send an expert to investigate the reported find, and to secure the valuable specimen for the provincial museum. The first report of the discovery was brought to the city a few days ago by a farmer named Gaultier, who resides in the district. He brought with him a number of fossilized bones of prehistoric animals recognized by experts who examined them to be the remains of extinct Saurians, of great age, at any rate older than the second glacial period.

He reported the discovery of the human skeleton near his own farm, but it was not unearthed because of the danger of damaging the fossil. An investigation is assured.

CANADA PORTLAND CEMENT

SOME men ask for so many bags of "cement"

Others, more careful, say they want "Portland Cement"

But the man who does the best work insists upon getting "Canada" Portland Cement—

And he looks to see that every bag bears this label

Write the Canada Cement Information Bureau, Montreal, for a free copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood. If you do not know him, write for his name.
